Hyderabad Assigned Districts.

In 1853 the inability of Hyderabad state to maintain the Hyderabad contingent led to a treaty by which the districts called the Hyderabad Assigned Districts, which comprised area now known as Berar, were assigned to the British. These districts constituted a separate administration until 1902 when administration of Berar was transferred to commissioner of Central Provinces. In accordance with agreement of 1936 Central Provinces and Berar are now administered as one governor's province. - of. Statesman's yearbook 1941.
